

Warehouse Fulfillment

Hello everyone! Let's talk about "Warehouse Fulfillment" this month.

When a business needs to operate a warehouse, in addition to renting a warehouse, an alternative good choice is to hand over the work to a trusted 3PL warehouse to reduce your cost.

What can a 3PL warehouse do for you?

- In/out work: It can ship and receive merchandise. For example, if you sell on Amazon and when you import your merchandise overseas, the warehouse can receive the goods for you and ship them to FBA. Another example, you can send your goods bought in the United States to the warehouse, and the warehouse can send these goods to other countries as a transferring warehouse for you.
- Pick and pack: When your customer places an order with you, your customer may purchase different items at a time. The warehouse can help you pack the items in one box and send it to your customer.
- Shipping: enjoy good shipping rates with more shipping service options (UPS, FedEx, USPS, DHL, SF Express, freight, truck...).
- Distribution: When you are a wholesaler and need to send the goods to your customers, the warehouse can help with your packaging and shipping.
- Full Supply Chain solutions: It can provide services throughout the supply chain. For example, when your factory is overseas, you can use the warehouse to order and stock inventory, ship orders, and handle all related work.
